Fall 2011

Dear Parents:

The purpose of this letter is to share important information about an issue of concern for our students, our schools, and our community and invite you to take action. Teen alcohol use is a problem in West Sonoma County. In the recent California Healthy Kids Survey, West County teens report frequent high-risk consumption of alcohol.

Teen drinking leads to many serious problems including accidents, injuries and alcohol poisoning, learning and behavior problems, and problems with friends, school and work. Recent research indicates that teen drinking has a significant impact on brain development, and those who consume alcohol at a young age have a higher risk of becoming addicted to alcohol later in life.

The West County Coalition for Alcohol and Drug-Free Youth is a group of west county parents, educators, law enforcement officers, health professionals, and other community members committed to reducing the problems associated with teen use of alcohol.

The West County Coalition for Alcohol and Drug-Free Youth suggests you join a supportive network of other parents across the community in creating a healthy and safe environment for West Sonoma County youth, by discussing the issue of alcohol use with your teen, and signing the annual Parent/Community Pledge (attached and made available in hard copy at your student's school).

More about The West County Coalition for Alcohol and Drug-Free Youth and information that may be helpful in discussing the issue of alcohol use with your teen may be found on the back of this letter.

After signing the Parent Pledge, you may return the pledge to your student's school office or to Diane Davis, Coordinator of the West County Coalition for Alcohol and Drug-Free Youth (contact information on back).

Sincerely,

Keller McDonald

The West County Coalition for Alcohol and Drug-Free Youth is a group of concerned citizens and organizations that have come together to address the problems of youth substance abuse. With funding from the Sonoma County Department of Health Services, Prevention and Planning, the Coalition is implementing research-proven approaches to change risky environments that encourage underage drinking. This way of working will bring many parts of our community together to strengthen existing policies to make Sebastopol and the West County environs a safer place for youth and the community at large.
